PROJECT COORDINATOR (CRISP)

I joined CRISP as a volunteer through the European Solidarity Corps and currently work as a Project Coordinator. In my role, I work across all project stages – from ideation and application writing to implementation and reporting. Additionally, I conduct on-ground activities and handle administrative tasks. Notable projects include:

Y-LEAD: Increasing youth and women's participation in Egyptian Local Council Elections by raising awareness of their rights, providing skills through an interactive online game, debate clubs, local initiatives, and capacity-building workshops.

Direct beneficiaries: 1 000 Indirect beneficiaries: 20 000 / Budget: approx. 1 500 000 EUR

Arabia Felix Conflict Transformation Online Course: Developing a self-paced online course for Yemeni youth that fosters principles of conflict transformation, sustainable peace and initiative design.

Beneficiaries: NA / Budget: approx. 90 000 EUR

Advancing Media Literacy and Democratic Resilience in Armenia: Develop media literacy skills among local Armenian communities and empowering them to identify and combat disinformation through gamified methodologies, including a simulation game and a card game.

Direct beneficiaries: 500 Indirect beneficiaries: 5000 / Budget: approx. 100 000 EUR

TRAINER / FACILITATOR (CRISP)

I design and facilitate workshops and simulation games, working with diverse target groups and topics, both online and offline. I encourage participants to reflect on the role of gender, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, and other intersecting factors.

Simulation Game "Bribania" (European Center for Kurdish Studies for Syrian members of the Constitutional Committee)

Simulation Game "Shebania" (Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung Gulf for young Bahraini parliamentarians)

ToT Simulation Game "Gadayel" (GIZ Egypt for Ministry employees)

PROFILE

Born and raised in Cairo, I grew up witnessing an education gap that motivated me to pursue a career in education development. I have worked with several Egyptian NGOs, developing and facilitating interactive curricula that promote sustainable development in local communities. I believe in the power of CSOs in reforming the educational systems and policies for global development.
